THIS IS OUR WORLD—the Whiting High school world—one which consists of the school, activities, academics, and most important of all, people.

People play the vital roles in the memories which will always live. They experience the enlightenment of learning, the competition of athletics, the participation in activities, and the friendships of one another.

The halls of Whiting will forever echo events such as decorating for the first formal dance, selecting a homecoming queen, cheering at sectionals, ordering class rings, and choosing committees for the climax of high school life—Class Night and Graduation.

As each of us looks back on his high school life, whether it has just begun or is on the verge of completion, he can associate numerous events, personalities, and places known internationally, nationally, and locally with the time he has spent at Whiting High School.

In the hope of reliving the past year's events and capturing them for readers, the REFLECTOR staff of 1965 presents THIS IS OUR WORLD.

Student Activities Center on Campus

A visitor to the world of WHS students couldn't help but notice that during the school year Oilers spend most of their waking hours on the Whiting High School campus.

This campus consists of the junior and senior high buildings, the library, and the gymnasium.

From eight A. M. until four P. M., the junior and senior high halls buzz with learning, the chatter of the day, and extracurricular activities.

The gymnasium echoes the cheers and shouts of basketball games and Student Council activity nights. It witnesses the formality and tears of graduation and other special occasions.

After school hours, students flock to the Whiting Public Library to broaden their knowledge of curricular subjects.

The Junior High School, located at 1800 New York Avenue, provides educational facilities as well as a swimming pool for WHS students.

Whiting High School Memorial Gymnasium is the center of activities from freshman basketball games to commencement exercises.

Day in and day out, students make use of library facilities to gain more information of their curricular subjects.

Linda Macko, Carol Soverly, Linda Kiraly, Linda Dolato, and Jerry Zorich stop and chat for a moment before the start of their morning classes.

Lockers Collect Student Necessities

With the sound of the 3:25 bell, students rush for home or extra curricular activities.

Let it never be said that the students of Whiting High School are not physically fit. In what other way could students, day in and day out, trudge up and down stairs and along bustling hallways? To realize this strenuous walk, one must follow the path of a typical student.

Stop and think! What object plays the most important part in the life of a student? The locker, of course! What would there be for a student to use as a collector for his clutter if it weren't for his good "ole" locker. Only when one realizes the services of a locker will he know and appreciate its true value.

The sound of the 8:15 bell echoes through the halls and simultaneously Whiting students rise to pay tribute to their country and their heritage with the "Pledge of Allegiance." The playing of "To the Colors" at this time adds to the patriotic beginning of every school day.

Whiting students learn the characteristics of a good voter through government classes and an inspection of a voting booth and machine.

Each room of the school contains an American flag, which serves as a constant reminder of the gift of freedom.

"Old Glory" flies high on her staff of honor.

Students Pay Tribute to 'Old Glory'

Howard Stross and Stan Bialon add a patriotic touch to every school day with their playing of "To the Colors" at 8:15 every morning.

Merrill Kendall and Sandy Greenburg pause and pay their respects to the flag as Stanley Bialon plays "To the Colors."

Lakeside Fantasia Brings Fantasy

The grand march climaxes the "Lakeside Fantasia."

to Enchanted Whiting Prom Couples

"Lakeside Fantasia" was the theme that beckoned prom-goers to the Chicago Room of McCormick Place in Chicago, Illinois, on May 15, 1964. They danced under the setting of the Chicago skyline cast on moonlit Lake Michigan to the music of the Harry Branden Orchestra. Wes Harrison, "Mr. Soundeffects", provided the entertainment during intermission.

The Conrad Hilton caterers served the couples a candle-lite dinner, after which they departed for home and reality.

Janice Brown and Tom Shackleford enjoy the dance music provided by the Harry Branden Orchestra.

A remembrance from "A Lakeside Fantasia."

Frosh-Sophs Present 'An Evening in Paris'

George Toth, Priscilla Springer, Emerson Kendall and Bonnie Banik depart from the social room after an "Evening in Paris."

Terry Justak and Linda Galambos pause to admire the decorations during the Freshman-Sophomore Party. Once again last year as in years of the past, the freshmen of WHS attended their first formal dance of their high school years. "An Evening in Paris" was the theme of the Freshman-Sophomore Party as enthusiastic decorators transformed the social room into a candle-lit Parisian cafe. The partygoers danced to the different moods created by "The Ambassadors."

In their memories May 8, 1964, will always be that of "An Evening in Paris."

Activity Night Provides Fun for All

This year the Student Council activity night celebrates its fourth year of existence. These activity nights, adopted in 1961, invite students to the Memorial Gymnasium for an evening of fun and recreation on one night a month from November to March.

Students can enjoy activities such as basketball, volleyball, ping-pong, horse-shoes, cards, shuffleboard, badminton, chess, checkers, and dancing while socializing with friends.

The co-operation of the Student Council and the Whiting Athletic Department make this opportunity possible for all WHS students.

Senior boys climax the activities of the night with a volleyball.

Ed Mullaney looks over the announcements of the day,

Jim Kubeck yells for help as a school day's load of books proves to be too heavy for him.

Daily Antics of Oilers Prove Interesting

Ramiza Roman and Glenn Manich pause between classes to discuss the events of the day.

Laura Tucker and Ron Jerzyk trim the traditional Christmas tree in the Junior High.

GACOffers Sports to Athletic Girls

Some senior girls practice their basketball skills in an after school GAC basketball game.

The Girls' Athletic Club offers sportsminded girls a well-rounded program of activities which includes volleyball, basketball, badminton, and bowling. By participating in these sports, GAC members receive points for various awards.

Girls earning 700 points merit numerals, 1400 points a "W", 2100 points a pin. The girl with the highest bowling average receives a bowling award.

Ruthe Thornton Reigns as 1964 Queen

Queen nominees Ruthe Thornton, Diane Tegosik, and Ramiza Roman anxiously await the answer to the question, "Who will be crowned queen?"

Ruthe Thornton, 1964 Whiting High School Homecoming Queen.

A sigh of relief and happiness was all that remained of this year's 1964 Homecoming, which officially began on Thursday, October 8, 1964, with the homecoming parade and blazing bonfire.

During the half-time ceremonies of the Horace Mann vs. Whiting game, in which the Oilers defeated the Horsemen by a score of 19-14, Louis Narantic, Student Council treasurer, crowned Ruthe Thornton as 1964 Homecoming Queen. After being given a traditional kiss and a bouquet of red roses, Queen Ruthe reigned over homecoming festivities for the continuation of the evening.

Exiting Parade, and Thrilling Victory

The juniors tell the Oilers to "gush up a victory," while they prepare to enter their prize-winning car into the Homecoming parade.

The traditional bonfire adds to the spirited festivities of homecoming.

Homecoming Brings Queen and Court,

To add to the high spirits of the occasion, the Fighting Oilers join in the Homecoming festivities.

Latineers portray the Homecoming football game as it would have been played during the days of Julius Caesar.

The Homecoming banner officially announces the beginning of the Homecoming festivities for 1964.

Top Scholars Head Class of 1965

As seniors we have now reached a milestone in our educational careers. Having been guided and molded by administrators, faculty, and counselors for the past four years, we are ready to embark on the next plateau of our lives.

Of course, not all of us will attain material success; but everyone should succeed in achieving a sense of satisfaction and accomplishment in knowing that each has done his best in everything he has tried.

George Kucka SALUTATORIAN

Son the members of our class will be scattered to many different places. Not one of us is sure where he will be or what he will be doing in the future, but one thing is for certain: each of us will always have a part of Whiting High with him wherever he may be. The education each has received here will only be a start. One learns as long as one lives, and let us hope that our years in high school have prepared us to learn with every opportunity.

If we have not achieved our aims in high school, it is not too late for us. Our time has run out, and some of us may have fallen short of the goals that we had set for ourselves when we started. You, the underclassmen, still have the time. Use it wisely, and prepare yourselves for the responsibilities our generation must face in the coming years.

John Kender VALEDICTORIAN

We, the Class of 1965, have not completed our formal high school education. Some of us will increase our knowledge through more formal education; others, through on the Job training. Whichever path we choose, may it be most benefical for us.

You, W.H.S. underclassmen, still have time to make the most of your high school education. Use your time wisely, and you will be prepared for life after graduation. Settle for nothing but the best, and the best shall be yours.

> Thomas Woznicaka SALUTATORIAN

He Will Live Forever in Our Hearts

Mr. Henry Kosalko

A bruise, well-cared for and healed; a patrol belt, repaired and put on; a yellow attendance slip, written in a fine hand and given to a student, a word of encouragement whispered to a football player resulting in a touchdown; all of these minute happenings in the lives of Whitingites will never be the same.

It was on Saturday, December 19, 1964, that Mr. Henry Kosalko, trainer, Patrol Club sponsor, attendance officer, and football coach received his call to his eternal resting place.

He had served Whiting High School well, and he will always be remembered in the hearts of all students and faculty members as a treasured friend and a "good guy."

Empty training room stands as silent bearer of grief.

Students

THIS IS OUR WORLD OF STUDENTS a world in which maturity is the goal for which we strive by broadening our intellectual interests and socializing with others.

Freshmen face a period of readjustsment for they must orientate themselves to a new type of situation—high school.

Sophomores display more self-confidence and become an official part of Whiting High School with the selection of their class rings.

"Upperclassmen" is the new title which is bestowed on the juniors. They must now begin to set an example for the underclassmen and plan THE social event of the school year—the Junior-Senior Prom.

Once again a haunting sense of insecurity exists, but this time among the seniors. They must set definite goals in life, and they must ask themselves questions such as "What opportunities are open to me?" and "What type of work am I really suited for?" Awaiting them is the climax for four years of learning and maturing—Graduation.

Each problem, each question, and each personality forms a definite part in OUR WORLD OF STUDENTS.

Dear Class of 1965.

Four years ago when I was given the assignment of being your class sponsor, I could not foresee that the class would be selling magazines, sponsoring dances, peddling knives, ordering address labels, giving a one-act play, having the prom at McCormick Place, and taking a class trip to New York City and Washington, D. C. All of these activities and many more were accomplished by your class officers and interested classmates who sacrificed countless hours to make your high school years more enjoyable.

As you leave the Whiting High School, you will realize that the years you have spent here have been some of the best years of your young lives. All of you have been exposed to the best preparation which our school has to offer. The amount of learning which you have achieved has depended on your individual initiative. Associations which you have made with administrators, teachers, and, especially, classmates will be remembered all of your lives. As you meet the problems of life individually, I hope that your high school preparation will provide you with all the wisdom that you may need.

I have truthfully enjoyed working with the members of the Class of 1965. I shall be looking forward to hearing of your social and academic accomplishments. Your constant co-operation with your class sponsor has been greatly appreciated.

My personal wishes for each member of the Class of 1965 are that you may continue to exhibit an intelligent approach to all future endeavors and that you remember with honest pride your years spent at your Alma Mater: Whiting High School.

Cordially yours,

THIS IS OUR WORLD OF ACADEMICS
—a world filled with mystery, adventure, and action which is waiting to be explored and conquered. The Whiting High School curriculum offers its students the opportunities to participate in the events of these everprogressing times by offering them the latest education facilities.

The college-bound receive training in the more advanced and highly technical fields such as mathematics, chemistry, physics, and the language arts.

Those interested in entering the business world after graduation enter the course of business math, typing, shorthand, and office practice.

The shop courses—print shop, machine shop, and wood shop—encourage boys who possess an interest in the manual arts to develop their talents and to decide upon their occupational choice.

To prepare the future housewife for her role, sewing and cooking serve as some instruction.

Questioning and eager minds, interesting subjects, long hours of study, teachers, and students compose OUR WORLD OF AC-ADEMICS.

Board Improves Educational Facilities

Board of Education Mr. Joseph J. Hapak, secretary; Mr. Joseph F. Pieters, treasurer; Mr. Joseph S. Kozacik, president; and Mr. George O. Burman, superintendent, make plans for improving school facilities.

The Board of Education's main concern is giving the finest educational opportunities to all Whiting students. To help attain this goal, a language lab and a chemistry lab were installed this year.

Members of the board shoulder the responsibilities of the Whiting School system which range from approving the annual budget to keeping school buildings in tiptop condition. They also decide on staff appointments and strive to keep standards of education as high as possible.

The Board of Education meets twice a month to discuss the problems which arise in regard to school management. Members are elected by the Whiting City Council for three-year terms.

Superintendent of Schools Mr. George O. Burman

Mr. George O. Burman, Superintendent of Whiting City Schools, served as principal of Whiting High School before he was appointed superintendent. He originally taught mathematics and social studies.

It is the superintendent's responsibility to administer the policies of the Board of Education. Mr. Burman also recommends school repairs, appoints teachers, and supervises curriculum changes.

He attended Northwestern and Indiana Universities and received Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degrees. He is a member of the Indiana State Teachers Association, American Association of School Administrators, and the National Education Association. He has served as president of the Northern Indiana High School Conference and Lake Courty Principals.

Mr. Ray P. Gallivan is the principal of Whiting High School. His duties include maintaining operations and keeping the school organized, efficient, and disciplined. He assures the students of a curriculum that keeps pace with the ever-changing world.

Mr. Gallivan attended the University of Illinois, where he obtained his Bachelor of Science degree, and Indiana University, where he received his Master of Science degree.

Before he became principal, he was Whiting's Athletic Director and boasts two state championships as football coach.

Mr. Gallivan also served in the United States Coast Guard and holds the rank of commander.

Principal Mr. Raymond P. Gallivan

Mr. Jesse B. Allen, Algebra, Geometry, and Senior Math instructor, holds an M.S. degree. He attended Indiana State College and the University of Illinois. He spends his leisure time reading.

Mrs. Mary Ann Barron, school nurse, received her R.N. from St. Joseph's School of Nursing. She is the sponsor of the Future Nurses' Club and claims baseball, reading, and music as her interests.

Mr. James Buckley teaches Health and American History besides coaching varsity football. He attended St. Joseph's College, Indiana State College, and the University of Minnesota. His outside interests included sports, reading, and world events.

Mr. James Campbell, Woodshop and Printshop instructor, received his B.S. degree from Indiana State Teachers' College. His outside interests include travel, sports, reading, music, art, chess, bridge, and stamp collecting.

Teachers Serve As Leaders into Worlds

Mrs. Ruth Connelly is the art instructor. She holds a B.A. degree from Indiana State College. Her outside interests include reading, art and music.

Mrs. Jane DePeugh teaches Sophomore English. She earned an A.B. degree from Indiana State College. She is interested in art, reading, and sports

Miss Judith Dvorchak, Health and Physical Education teacher, earned her B.S. degree from Purdue University. She sponsors the G.A.C. and her main interests are music, sports, travel, and reading.

Mr. Thomas Faulkner attended Indiana University where he received his B.S. and M.S. degrees. He teaches business courses and spends his leisure time participating in various sports.

Mr. Stephen Fowdy, instructor of Civics and World History, attended the University of Michigan, North Dakota, Indiana University, and Northwestern University. He holds B.A. and M.A. degrees, and travelling, reading, theater, and sports occupy his spare time.

Mrs. Virginia Gergel, teaches Science and Mathematics. She attended Purdue University and Chicago Teachers' College, where she received a B.S. degree. Sewing and playing the piano are her favorite pastimes.

Mr. Norman Hall, instructor of industrial arts, is the sponsor of the Class of 1966. He attended Indiana State College and Chicago Teachers College, where he received his M.S. and B.S. degrees. His outside interests include golf, do-it-yourself kits and hi-fil.

of Future Opportunities and Vocations

Mrs. Mary Hanas. English and Latin teacher, received her B.A. degree from Indiana University. She is the sponsor of the Booster Club, cheerleaders, and Latin Club. Her outside interests include travel and sports.

Mr. Wesley Humphrey, is the director of the junior and senior bands. He attended Indiana University and Ball State Teachers College and received a B.M.E. degree. He spends his leisure time golfing, hunting, and fishing.

Miss Alice Jenkins, girls' counselor, had B.S. and M.A. degrees. She attended Illinois, Indiana, and Chicago Universities. Her outside interests include photography, ceramic work, reading, and coin collecting.

Mr. Alexander Kompier, F.T.A. sponsor, teaches English. He attended Indiana, Northwestern, and Purdue Universities and received B.S. and M.A. degrees. Languages serve as his main outside interest. Mr. Peter Kovachic. "W" Club sponsor and Athletic Director, teaches Physical Education. He received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from the University of Illinois and Indiana University. His interests include golf, swimming, and fishing.

Mr. Thomas Kujawa received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Indiana States College. He teaches courses in Mathematics and Science and sponsors intramural sports. His interest include golf, fishing, baseball, and travel.

Mrs. Marie Lentvorsky, sponsor of the National Honor Society and Girls' Club, teaches American History and English. She attended Indiana University, the University of Colorado, and the University of Michigan. She has B.A. and M.A. degrees. Her interests include travel, reading, and sports.

Mr. Michael Mihalo. Georgraphy and Economics teachers, ranks reading and travel as his main interests. He holds B.S. and M.S. degrees in Social Studies from Indiana and Northwestern Universities

Teachers Strive for Better Education

Mr. Vincent Oliver, varsity basketball coach, received his B.S. degree from Indiana University. He claims sports and theater as his pastimes.

Miss Eleanor Overdeck, cooking instructress, received her B.S. and M.S. degrees from Indiana University. Her outside interests include ballet, travel sewing, oil painting, and music.

Mr. Edward Pawlus, sponsor of the Class of 1968, earned B.S. and M.S. degrees in Mathematics. He studied at Indiana University, Indiana State Teachers' College, and DePaul University. His main outside interest is reading.

Miss Ane Marie Petersen, sponsor of the REFLEC-TOR and TATTLER, earned an A.B. degree in Journalism and English. Her interests are reading, theater, and music.

Mr. George Sαligα, boys' counselor, carries B.S. and M.S. degrees. He enjoys reading historical novels, dramatics, and the stock market.

Mr. Von L. Stoffer, teaches Biology and General Science. He received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Ball State Teachers College.

Mr. Jack Taylor, Spanish instructor, holds A.B. and M.A. degrees. He attended DePauw University and the University of Michigan. He sponsors the Student Council and the Spanish Club. His main interest is dramatics.

Mr. Arnold Turner, Typing, General Business, Shorthand, and Office Practice instructor, received his B.S. degrees from Indiana State College, Indiana University, and the University of Pittsburg. His outside interests include swimming and travel.

and Prepare Students for Future

Mr. John Toth, librarian and co-sponsor of the Thespians, claims folk music and dramatics as his outside interests. He attended Indiana State College, where he received a B.S. degree.

Mr. James Ulrich, sponsor of the senior class and co-sponsor of the Thespians, devotes his spare time to reading, dramatics, religion, and travel. He studied for his B.A. and M.S. degrees at Ball State Teachers College and Indiana University.

Mrs. Marian Wagner, sewing instructress, graduated from Butler University, where she received her A.B. degree in Home Economics.

Ancient Romans Come To Life in Latin

Diane Papesh, second-year Latin student, demonstrates the declension of the Latin noun "girl" to the second period Latin class.

Every morning a group of WHS students exchange their ordinary school garb for togas. They do this by studying the basis of many modern languages, Latin.

First-year students become acquainted with Latin and broaden their knowledge of ancient Rome by translating the adventures of two Roman boys, Publius and Furianus Translating Julius Caesar is the main challenge of second-year students. The translation of ancient legends and myths adds to their interest of Latin.

Kathy Kozacik and Bob Kart act out the parts of Caecilia and Furianus in a Roman skit during Latin class.

Mrs. Mary Hanis, Latin teacher, reviews the declension of haec domus and the conjugation of various verbs with the second period Latin class.

New Lab Brightens Study of 'Espanol'

Kevin Oliver searches through Mr. Jack Taylor's collection of tapes for a recording of Spanish songs.

Mr. Jack Taylor, Spanish teacher, seranades his second-year students as they take time out for a bit of pleasure.

A visitor entering Room 210 might think that he has discovered a collection of creatures from outer space, but the apparatus they use isn't an interplanetary communication system. These wierd beings are WHS Spanish students, and their strange headgear provides their passport to a knowledge of Spanish-speaking peoples.

First-year students strive to master the pronunciation and pattern of Spanish, while second-year students learn to write correctly and effectively. The over-all goal of the three-year course is a general knowledge of "el espanol."

Mary Kompier shows Ernie Walters the way that a Spanish-speaking person would say "hello."

First-year Spanish students listen and learn from the newly installed language laboratory.

Pat Krahies delivers a report on current events to Mrs. Lentvorsky's American history class.

All social studies students receive the opportunity to take a 180-day tour of the United States as well as to explore the past of the United States.

American History students begin their trip with the study of the development of the United States, while geography students explore the landmarks of the world. Civics provides a better understanding of government from local to national level.

These textbooks serve as a guide to the world of social studies.

Students Take 180 Day Tour of World

Susan Hanyiscka and Tim Carroll look on as Mrs. Marie Lentvorsky, American history teacher, shows them the location of the battle of Lexington. "She's the one," shouts Bob Blevins to Sue Shaffer, as Bridget Gorman and Bonnie Banik look on in surprise while demonstrating a pantomime in speech class.

Pupils Study Basis of English Language

Mr. James Ulrich, English teacher, explains one of the important rules of grammar to Carol Gulley, while she studies for that important test.

Mr. Kompler explains the meaning of lambic pentameter to Bud Adams. The ability to formulate stationary opinions and to express them clearly is a great help to one's material success. In fact, one's recognition of realistic and unrealistic ideas affects his well-being. The WHS curriculum brings out these ideas and devotes itself to the attainment of excellence in judging and expressing of opinions.

Courses in English grammar and literature teach the correct manner of expression and reveal the backgrounds of the world's most famous authors. Speech, which is offered in the sophomore year; Journalism, in the junior year; and Playreading, in the senior year, add to the variety of the WHS English requirement.

Biology Opens New World to Students

Mr. Thomas Kujawa, general science teacher, explains an experiment to his eighth grade class as they conscientiously take notes.

"Watch out for that crotalus admanteus!" shouts a student. To those who study Bloogy, a crotalus admanteus is a diamond-backed rattlesnake.

Biology is the study of plants and animals and other organisms from the protozoa the smallest known form of life to man, the most intelligent form. The yearly project of the class is an insect collection.

This year the WHS curriculum offers advanced biology to the students who have completed the basic course.

Natalie Stahura examines a paramecium specimen under the microscope as Emerson Kendall informs her of its parts and functions.

Sue Shaffer examines the crayfish specimen during an identification test in first period biology.

New Science Lab Offers Latest Facilities

The WHS science department is fully aware of the number of physicists and chemists needed in our ever-advancing world. To help America in reaching this goal, the WHS curriculum offers the rocket builders and astronauts of tomorrow courses in chemistry and physics.

This year a new laboratory added interest and made possible more intense experimentation for science students.

Bobby Plawecki tests the theory of parallel forces in Mrs. Gergel's physics class.

Mrs. Virginia Gergel, chemistry teacher, explains the formula for making oxygen to Ed Sandrick during third period chemistry class.

Enthused chemists Linda Bardos, Gary Baker, George Butkovich, and Paula Blastick perfect their glass bending techniques in third period chemistry class.

Mr. Arnold Turner, office practice teacher, explains the operation of the duplicating machine to Diane Tegosik as Ruthe Thornton practices on the adding machine.

Students preparing for a future in the business world receive special training during their junior and senior year.

Typing, most popular of the commercial courses, teaches the student to type with speed and accuracy.

Taking dictation at a rate of 100 words per minute is the goal of girls studying shorthand, while office practice students learn the operation of various office machines.

Students Prepare for Jobs in Big Business

Susan Kovacik performs an office practice exercise on the adding machine.

First-year typing class prepares for a three-minute writing under the supervision of Mr. Thomas Faulkner, typing teacher.

Math Puzzles Minds of WHS Students

The Mathematics Department of Whiting High School offers students a well-rounded program of courses to prepare them for their future vocations.

Algebra and Geometry form the basis of a college-bound person's math requirement and enables him to develop his reasoning ability and learn the basic principles of more advanced math. For those planning careers as engineers or mathematicians, the WHS curriculum offers courses in Advanced Algebra and Senior Math.

Students interested in the business world receive training in General Business and Business Math.

Mr. Arnold Turner's General Business students study the principles needed in today's business world.

Mr. J. B. Allen, math teacher, receives the undivided attention of his senior math class while introducing them to the basic principles of advanced mathematics.

Boys Receive Training in Manual Arts

The main objective of the industrial courses—wood shop, print shop, and machine shop—is the development of necessary skills.

To express himself, the young woodworking artist adds a personal touch to each of his creations.

The prospective machinist develops the techniques of operating various machines and their uses, while printshop reveals the basic principles and history of printing.

These courses in industrial arts give boys who are not planning a college education some training for future employment.

Paul Fowler and Mr. James Campbell, wood shop teacher, view Bill Box as he operates the radial arm saw while completing the finishing touches on his latest project.

Joe Hruskocy uses an engine lathe to make a screw driver.

Girls Develop Talents in Home Ec Class

Diane Fowler demonstrates her sandwich-making ability in second period cooking class.

Marlyn Hunt observes Joyce Taylor as she installs a zipper into her latest creation during sewing class.

To prepare girls for their future positions as homemakers, the WHS curriculum offers a program of home economics courses.

Cooking students learn nutritional values and the art of preparing meals, while future seasmstresses learn the basis principles of sewing and the care of clothes.

Health Probes Causes of Disease

Mr. James Buckley, health teacher, explains the parts and processes of the heart to Nancy Davidson and Greg Murzyn.

Activity and liveliness are the prime ingredients in the life of every Whiting student, and these years are a time of both mental and physical development. WHS health students explore this complicated procedure of growing up.

Health is a course filled with the study of our simplest actions such as breathing, moving, seeing, and living. It teaches the importance of good habits and the harmful effects of bad ones.

Health is a required subject. This year classes are crowded because of its change from a senior to a freshman course.

Oilers Study Basic Architecture

Glenn Manich watches Jim Obrenski as he sketches his "dream house" in mechanical drawing.

Future Drivers Practice Rules of Road

Drivers' Training, available to upperclassmen, encourages students to learn the rules of the road. It prepares students for any type of emergency by teaching the parts of the car.

Drivers' Training stresses proper attitudes and courteous driving. Behind the wheel the student receives guided instructions while learning Indiana state laws for proper driving.

Mr. Raymond Zubeck, drivers' training instructor, explains the items on the instrument panel to Tom Kusbel.

"There's the carburetor, and there's the motor," says Mr. Ray Zubeck, drivers' education teacher, to Tom 'Kusbel, Gary Baker, and Terry Kilmer during a demonstration in drivers' training class.

The Scholarship "W" serves as an award for scholastic achievement. Students who maintain at least a "B" average in every subject throughout both semesters of the school receive this award.

The Scholarship "W" is circular in form, and each "W" varies in its combination of green and white. Any person earning four Scholarship "W's" receives one stamped on his diploma.

Maintenance Keeps Whiting Spotless

Mr. John Bodney, maintenance supervisor, takes a break from his job of seeing that Whiting is in tip-top condition.

Mrs. Mary Brindley and Mrs. Gladys Hardy, school secretaries, work on the daily announcements

Susan Gossett, Leona Krivacic, Elsie Panik, Jennie Menser, and Anna Markovic are the ladies who keep Whiting High School shining. Whether the job is hanging signs, providing a ladder, or unlocking a room, "I'll help" appears to be the constant reply of the members of the maintenance staff.

The office secretaries should also be mentioned because if it weren't for them, school records would not be in order and there would be no mimeographed tests or announcements.

These people form an essential part in the lives of WHS students.

Mrs. Dorothy Williams, payroll clerk; Mr. James McDonald, business manager, and Mrs. Williams Caine, secretary to the superintendent, check and make sure that the records of the school are in order.

Council Strives Toward Better School

The Student Council, the government of the students, by the students, and for the students, meets bi-weekly under the supervision of Mr. Jack Taylor. At these meetings the home room representatives discuss student problems and suggestions.

The major function of the Student Council is serving as the mediator between the administration and the students. It also conducts the elections of class officers, supervises the Homecoming activities, and sponsors monthly activity nights.

With the four cardinal points of leadership, scholarship, character, and service as their aim, members strive to provide a shining example for other Whiting students.

To be eligible for National Honor Society membership, a student must maintain a "B" average and possess such qualities as personality, honesty, morality, achievement and reliability. The faculty chooses the new members who are initiated in January and May of each year.

The National Honor Society promotes the qualities of good citizenship and scholarship among students. The annual activities of this organization include sponsoring a dance, two initiations, and participating in the Channel 11 fund raising campaign.

Activities

THIS IS OUR WORLD OF ACTIVITIES -a world in which one can find profitable ways to use his extra time for his own benefit as well as that of his fellow students. To aid the social development of its students. Whiting High School offers a well-planned program of extra-curricular activities. To those with high academic goals and achievements the National Honor Society opens its doors. The future Betty Davises and Clark Gables find enjoyment in the Thespians, while the Student Council welcomes students who possess leadership. The Girls' Club consists of all the girls in the school and aids in creating a closer bond of friendship between the girls of all classes. To those who have chosen a future career in teaching or nursing, the Future Nurses' Club and Future Teachers' Association offers added information and encouragement to attain their goals. The athletic-minded boy can take advantage of Whiting's intramural program or join the bowling team.

Activities play a definite role in Whiting's world, and the memories of many dances, Homecomings, plays, and concerts will linger. To help relive the past year's activities, the REFLECTOR staff of 1965 presents OUR WORLD OF ACTIVITIES,

Booster Club Officers Betty Dedinsky, president; Larry Fritz, treasurer; and Charlotte Bailey, vice president, display their school spirit by hanging a sign for the Whiting-Clark game.

Booster Club Vitalizes School Spirit

"We've got spirit! We've got spirit!" chant the members of the Booster Club as they cheer the Oiler teams to victory. Cheering, however, is only one of the purposes of this organization. It emphasizes sportsmanship in the team, as well as in its fans, and plans the homecoming activities.

The club's activities include the selling of shakers, booster buttons, license plates, and the sponsoring of a dance.

Girls Unite for Fun and Friends

Encouraging friendship, promoting good manners, and acquiring poise serve as the main objectives of the Girls' Club. Its meetings help girls to learn good grooming, proper grooming and dress, and many of the problems which confront a girl in her everyday life.

Annual activities of the club include the Big Sister-Little Sister Party, a dance, and the Mothers' Day Tea. Members and officers also attend the Calumet Region Girls' Conference.

"Act well your part, there all the honor lies" stands as the motto of Whiting Thespian Troupe No. 856.

All students who are interested in Thespian membership must earn ten points. Acting in school plays, working on stage crews, or serving on ticket or make-up committees give students the opportunity to earn points.

This group produces two all-school plays, attends stage plays in Chicago, and holds an annual initiation banquet.

To the REFLECTOR staff September neans not only the beginning of school, but the start of a new yearbook.

Days soon become heetic with writing copy, collecting advertisements, identifying pictures, and pasting up pages.

Now, with all deadlines met and advertising sold totaling $1,575.00 the 1965 RE-FLECTOR staff presents the finished product, "This Is Our World", to the students of Whiting High School.

Susan Kovacik, advertising manager, tells Paula Blastick, business manager, and Marilyn Hrpka, advertising manager, that the goal set for ad money has been reached.

Tattler Staff Rushes to Beat Grapevine

This year the Whiting High School TATTLER, celebrating its 44th year of publication, sports a new look. Because of the newly purchased machines, the Headliner, the Varityper, and Multilith, students are now able to compose and print their own bi-weekly paper.

Miss Ane Marie Petersen, TATTLER adviser, demonstrates the correct method of pasting up a page to George Vrabel and Linda Bardos, TATTLER co-editors.

Tattler reporters, Cheryl Macko and Pam Geffert, check with Mr. Fowdy, Civies teacher, to make sure that the facts are straight as they make the rounds of their news beat.

George Vrabel waits anxiously as "Sam" the newly purchased headline machine does its job.

Patrolman Andy Kubeck aids the Patrol Club in assuring student safety.

Patrol Club Assures Student Safety

Several times a day the students and the faculty of Whiting High School receive the protection of the Patrol Club.

Members are chosen on the basis of loyalty, dependability, and the willingness to help people.

Members serving one year merit pins and bars, while those with two years of service receive monograms. A patrol boy with perfect attendance obtains a certificate.

Initiations, picnics, and baseball games compose the club's activities.

Athletics

THIS IS OUR WORLD OF ATHLETICS—a world in which one experiences the exhaustion of a long practice session, the tension of a close game, the ecstasy of victory, and the agony of defeat.

One can admire an athlete for his drive and stamina and for the records which he, sets, but few truly realize the full amount of effort which an athlete exerts.

WHS football players tackle and tumble on the gridiron to bring honor to their school by the pigskin. The basketball team exerts its full capability of dribbling, passing, and sinking another basket to raise the Oiler tally. Cindermen and swimmers dedicate their last ounce of energy to cross the finish line ahead of the others.

All of the competitors, whether they are varsity athletes or participate in intramurals, constitute OUR WORLD OF ATH-LETICS.

coach, and athletic director; Mr. Vincent Oliver, basketball coach; Mr. Phil Mateja, baseball coach and freshman football; Mr. Thomas Kujawa, intramurals, and seventh and eight grade basketball coach.

W Club Strives for Athletic Sportsmanship

"W" Club Officers—Ron Plewnisk, treasurer; George Justak, president; Mr. Peter Kovachle, sponsor; Rich Krivacie, vicepresident; and Ed Miller, secretary—discuss plans for the annual initiation dance.

The "W" Club is an organization composed of Oiler athletes who meet the requirements of earning a certain number of points or playing a certain number of quarters in a particular sport.

This club, which strives to promote sportsmanship and leadership in both the school and the community, keeps its members occupied with ushering at sports events and sponsoring an annual initiation dance.

THIS IS OUR WORLD OF ADVERTISE— MENTS—a world of buying, selling, and exchanging. The businessmen of the Calumet Region form a vital part of community life. They perform innumberable services such as cleaning clothes, repairing broken appliances, fixing shoes, and driving taxi cabs.

Merchants offer people the opportunity to purchase the freshest foods, the latest fashions, and the most stylish coiffures at their convenience

Students constantly deal with these businessmen who not only render their services to the community, but also support various school activities such as athletic events and music department activities.

The REFLECTOR staff of 1965 extends its appreciation to the Calumet Region businessmen who made the production of this book possible.

For more than 70 years men and women have been building successful careers at Inland Steel. Today many of your relatives, friends and neighbors are working at the Indiana Harbor Works of Inland Steel in a wide variety of occupations providing steel that goes into bridges, buildings, refrigerators, ranges, farm machines, automobiles, tools, toys . . . into thousands of products that we use each day. Many are concentrating on certain phases of steelmaking by working in production departments.

Others are working in laboratories helping to assure quality or developing new and better products for our customers.

Some are gaining knowledge and experience in special trades through formal apprentice-ship programs offered in the following trades — Machinist, Patternmaking, Boilermaking, Welding, Shop Electrician, Wireman, Mason. Inland offers the high school graduate an excellent opportunity to further his education. Employees may participate in a variety of on-the-job training programs or the Purdue-Inland Training Program in which an employee may take a steelmaking, electrical or mechanical curriculum. Still others ars continuing their formal education at one of the local extension centers.
